

Lessons Address a Range of Skills

Choices Program curriculum resources call upon students to:

- Consider multiple perspectives on international issues
- Interpret and analyze primary sources
- Compile, categorize and analyze data
- Differentiate between fact and opinion
- Draw conclusions from evidence
- Identify and weigh the conflicting values represented by different points of view
- Clarify differences between competing ideas
- Work cooperatively within groups to organize effective presentations
- Support arguments with evidence
- Deliver cogent and persuasive presentations
- Evaluate the merits and shortcomings of competing policy options
- Develop a deeper understanding of issues through informed discussion
- Make connections across time and place
- Develop and articulate original viewpoints on an issue

Choices Program — Brown University

www.choices.edu